Moises L. Barraza brings both personal conviction and a passion for respecting the dignity of the human person to his work as an immigration attorney. As the son of Mexican immigrants, Mr. Barraza experienced firsthand his own parents’s hard work to become U.S. Citizens. He received his undergraduate degree from the University of Texas at El Paso and his Juris Doctor from Washburn University School of Law in Kansas. Mr. Barraza now provides the immigrant community with honest, high-quality, and personalized legal services, taking on and winning even some of the most difficult cases. His success has been applauded by numerous professional recognitions, including “Top 40 Under 40” awards from both the American Society of Legal Advocates (2017) and The National Advocates (2016), “10 Best in Client Satisfaction among Immigration Attorneys” (2016-2017) and “10 Best Law Firm, Exceptional and Outstanding Client Service” (2017) from the American Institute of Legal Counsel, and “Distinguished Lawyer” from the Expert Network (2017). Mr. Barraza’s Catholic faith also drives his work, especially in today’s complicated, confused, and often polarized immigration climate. He strives to be a voice of reason, moving beyond political platforms and inspiring others to base their convictions on the Social Teachings of the Catholic Church.

“Let Christians follow the example of Christ who worked as a craftsman; let them be proud of the opportunity to carry out their earthly activity in such a way as to integrate human, domestic, professional, scientific and technical enterprises with religious values, under whose supreme direction all things are ordered to the glory of God.”- Second Vatican Council
